Dear Mrs. J Brooks,

Please send me a copy of "the full and detailed explanation [I] have previously been sent."

The extremely positive £1,000 neuropsychologist's report, agreed to by your Dr. Hanley, was then ignored by him.

I append my legal costs, to which should be added my driving lessons costs of £300, followed by no driving test. I understand the cost to the taxpayer was an additional £5,000. Added to my being prevented from driving for nearly three years, this is not a trivial matter.

Yours sincerely,

Ivor Catt

Dear Mr Catt

Thank you for your letter of 11 December to Simon Tse regarding your driving licence. Mr Tse has asked me to reply.

I am sorry that you have needed to write again regarding this matter. However, I regret that there is nothing further I can usefully add to the full and detailed explanations you have previously been sent.

With regards to the omission of Group A (motorcycle) from your licence, I can advise that arrangements have now been made to issue you with a further licence showing this category. You will receive your new licence shortly under separate cover.

I trust the above clarifies the situation and please accept my apologies and concern this matter has caused you.

Yours sincerely
